Experiencing a workplace issue?

It's important to connect with the right person to get the information, assistance, and support you need.

It's always best to address an issue as soon as possible to restore a healthy, positive workplace where artists can thrive creatively and professionally. Don't wait until the show closes to ask for help!

Talk to the Engager

It's the Engager's responsibility to ensure a safe and respectful workplace and investigate any issues, under both provincial law and Equity's agreements. If you experience or witness inappropriate behaviour, or have a safety concern, report it to the Engager.

Your Engager contact is: _____

Tell your Equity Business Rep

Equity is always prepared to help you with issues in the workplace. Contact your Business Rep if you have questions or concerns about health and safety, contract or payment issues, or violation of an Equity Agreement or Policy.

Your Equity Business Rep is: _____

Your Liaison can help identify additional resources or speak to Equity on your behalf.

Your Equity Liaison is: _____

Everyone working in live performance has the right to a safe and respectful workplace.

If you experience or witness bullying, harassment, discrimination, or other inappropriate behaviour in the workplace, tell the Engager and report it to Equity.

Scan the QR code to report inappropriate behaviour through Equity's website.

All submissions are confidential.

To ensure Equity can provide effective support, we encourage you to file a report as soon as possible.

caea.com/workplace-support
416-867-9165 • 1-800-387-1856

Canadian Actors' EQUITY Association